Founded in 1999, Luoyang Siamatec Co., Ltd (hereinafter called "LSC" for short form, formerly called "Luoyang Sincere") was fortunate to be one among the first batch private trading companies approved the import and export qualification certificate by the state ministry of commerce after China joined the WTO. Our founder and his team members keep pride for their long-term experience in the business areas of minerals and chemicals since 1989. During these years, LSC has steadfastly evolved into an independent specialized wholesaler with its own unique style of business and management. We make full use of our distinctive talents to provide customers with products and services mainly in the fields of refractories, steel & foundry materials and testing apparatus for refractories.

As a specialized raw materials distributor, we have shifted ourselves from a professional refractory dealer to one involving in three fields. By this changeover, we have been studying a lot of new knowledge of the products we are engaged in and accumulating vast experience which enable us to change our business model from a traditional distributor to one providing greater added value. LSC people are always ready to provide the value-added support beyond the consignments and move forward with our worldwide customers, contributing to their development as a sincere partner.

LSC is located in the ancient capital city of 13 dynasties - Luoyang, in Henan Province which is regarded as the center of ancient China. Nowadays Luoyang is not only a modern industrial city, but also an attractive tourism resort for its rich historical heritages and beautiful national flower - Peony. All these resources create us perfect opportunities to invite our old and new friends to experience the mysterious history and culture of this charming city together with their sincere partner - LSC.

Thanks for your attention and close cooperation.
